VANDELAY TECHNOLOGIES AWARDED DBA CONTRACT WITH THE DRUG ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION

Gaithersburg, Maryland, February 27, 2004 - Vandelay Technologies (VT), a leading provider of information technology services, today announced it was awarded a contract for Oracle Database Administration Services by the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA). The DEA is purchasing off VT's GSA schedule for this contract.

VT is providing several senior Oracle Database Administrators (DBA) to help support the DEA's internal databases and applications. The DBAs will be responsible for daily database operations and provide ongoing support for existing and new database development. The DBA's will also help with the recommendation of new products.

"We are happy to provide the DEA with these senior Database Administrators. We hope that we will be able to not only support the existing databases, but use our experience to recommend new solutions to the DEA.", said Lenny Ilkovich, Project Manager for Vandelay Technologies.

Vandelay Technologies provides information technology services and products to government and commercial clients. The company specializes in systems engineering, integration and network systems, Internet/intranet/extranet access and services. The company is headquartered in Gaithersburg, Maryland.
